The Solemnity of the Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ

This Sunday we celebrate a second solemnity during this period of Ordinary Time in the liturgical calendar. Today is the Solemnity of the Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ. This day was once called Corpus Christi, which is Latin for “Body of Christ.” In the revised Lectionary the name for this day is expanded to reflect more completely our Eucharistic theology. Today’s Gospel is taken from the Gospel according to John. The reading is part of a discourse between Jesus and a crowd of Jews. The discourse comes shortly after the miracle of Jesus’ multiplication of the loaves and fishes. In John’s Gospel, miracles such as this are identified as “signs” through which people come to believe that Jesus is the Son of God. These signs are followed by dialogue, or discourse that interprets and explains the miracle. In John’s Gospel, Jesus’ multiplication of the loaves is said to have occurred near Passover, thus linking it to the Exodus story and God’s saving action toward the Israelites.

Having seen Jesus multiply the loaves and fishes, the crowd pursues him, perhaps seeking more food but also looking for another sign. Jesus tells the crowd that he is the bread of life. He explains that just as God gave the Israelites manna to sustain them in the desert, so now God has sent new manna that will give eternal life. It is in this context that Jesus repeats those words in today’s Gospel and tells them again that he is the living bread that came down from heaven.

Jesus’ words are not well understood by the crowd; they argue that Jesus is not from heaven but born of Mary and Joseph. The crowd also has trouble understanding how Jesus could give them his flesh to eat. Jesus tells them that when they eat his flesh and drink his blood, they will remain forever connected to him. These are difficult words, but they are important because they seek to show us our intimate connection with Jesus.

This is the mystery that is at the heart of our Eucharistic theology. In the elements of bread and wine, Jesus’ Body and Blood are truly present. When we share in the Body and Blood of Christ, Jesus himself comes to dwell within us. This communion with the Lord makes us one body, brings us eternal life, and sends us forth to be Christ’s Body in the world.

«Quien come mi carne y bebe mi sangre permanece en mí, y yo en él».

La fiesta del Corpus Christi de hoy nos invita a celebrar y reflexionar con gratitud sobre el misterio de la Eucaristía. Este es el gran don de Jesús mismo: el pan de vida. Las lecturas nos ayudan a comprender cómo Dios nos nutre, nos une como uno solo y nos llama a confiar en él.

Moisés (Primera Lectura) recuerda cómo Dios liberó a los israelitas de la esclavitud y los guió por el desierto, proveyéndoles de maná y agua. Nunca estamos solos: el Señor cuida de nosotros incluso en tiempos de dificultad. Este tema se refleja en el Salmo. El pueblo eleva sus corazones en agradecimiento a Dios, cantando alabanzas por su guía, su palabra y su protección.

Pablo explica a los Corintios, y a nosotros, que participar del cuerpo y la sangre de Cristo nos une a Cristo y a toda la comunidad cristiana, haciéndonos un solo cuerpo. (Segunda Lectura)

En el Evangelio, Jesús se declara el pan vivo del cielo. La Eucaristía es el nuevo maná, dado por medio de Jesús, quien promete estar siempre con nosotros como fuente de toda vida.

Esta semana, oramos por una mayor confianza en el don de la Eucaristía, y especialmente por quienes no pueden participar de ella por cualquier motivo, recordando que Dios nos ama a todos incondicionalmente. (Comunidad Católica Latina en Bangkok)

Consecration of the United States to the Sacred Heart of Jesus

On June 11, 2026, as part of the celebration of the 250th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, the U.S. bishops will consecrate the United States of America to the Sacred Heart of Jesus. Parishes around the country are encouraged to join the bishops in celebrating the consecration of our nation to the Sacred Heart.

In preparation for this consecration, all are invited to participate in a Novena to the Sacred Heart of Jesus from June 3-11, 2026. Learn more about the consecration or find the novena prayers at the links below.
